Miss Florence Wilson of Philadelphia has been appointed chief librarian for the League of Nations. Miss Wilson served with the American peace commission in Paris and then joined the league forces in London. For several years she was librarian at Columbia university.

ENGLISH RACES ON PACIFIC MAY BAN ORIENTALS

SITUATION IS COMPLICATED

Informal Negotiations Started for Union of Five Countries.

Washington—Unofficial and informal negotiations have been going on for more than a week looking to some kind of working agreement between the United States and Canada, Australia, New Zealand and South Africa with a view to maintaining a united front against Japanese immigration.

These four British dominions are confronted with much the same problem with regard to the Japanese which has resulted, so far as this country is concerned, in the California laws attempting to prevent Japanese ownership of land, and the troublesome negotiations between the State Department and Japanese diplomats over the California laws.

It is said that far from laying plans for ratification of a treaty invalidating California's anti-Japanese laws, Senators are seriously discussing a proposition which would result in a united front being made against Japanese immigration by five powerful countries whose interests in excluding Japanese nationals are identical.

The fact that four of these countries, Canada, Australia, New Zealand and South Africa, are supposed to be included with Great Britain in an alliance with Japan, whereas the move plans for them to be identified with the United States in a move against Japan's expressed interest, adds complications to an already rather involved situation.

EARTHQUAKES REPORTED FROM DISTANT LANDS

New Volcano Found by Andes Prospector.

Buenos Ayres—What possibly may be a new volcano in a lonely unvisited section of the Andes is reported by a prospector, J. Weimar, who has just returned to Mendoza, according to a late report.

Weimar says that on the same day the earthquake occurred in Mendoza province, he was near Mount Calaveras. He felt a severe earthquake shock lasting fifty seconds which threw him to the ground. Afterwards he discovered a crater emitting incandescent lava, hot water, rocks and smoke, but left immediately, not stopping to investigate.

Albania's Recent Temblor Injures Many.

Tirana (Albania)—Forty-two persons were killed, 200 were injured and 500 made homeless by the recent earthquake in the Tepeleni district, it was learned.

State's Board Halts Express Rate Increase.

San Francisco—The State Railroad Commission refused to grant the American Railway Express Company authority to increase express rates 15 per cent.

FIERCE FIGHTING IN ENVIRONS OF FIUME

ITALIANS BESIEGE THE CITY

Bombardment is Begun by Army and Navy as Siege Starts.

Trieste—The regulars under General Cavaglia are bombarding Fiume in combination with the navy, a systematic siege being under way. The guns are being directed against the barracks, the palace and similar buildings, the intention being to damage the city as little as possible.

Rome—Dispatches from Fiume say the legionnaires in the city, using electric drills, are boring holes under the principal buildings in the leading thoroughfares through which the invading troops must pass and are mining them. They say it is their intention to blow up the town rather than surrender it.

London—Fierce fighting is proceeding in the environs of Fiume, say dispatches from Milan, and the losses to the regulars are very heavy, among the casualties being two Colonels mortally wounded.

D'Annunzio flew over the lines Sunday, dropping leaflets from his airplane calling on the regulars to desert. The poet's troops have transformed the houses in the public gardens into machine gun nests, which have been effective in stopping the Government forces. All the main streets are defended by barbed wire barricades.

PITCHED BATTLE IN COUNTY LIMERICK

Cork Newspaper Plant Wrecked by 30 Armed and Masked Raiders.

Dublin—Six men were killed, a number wounded and 138 arrested during the course of a pitched battle between Sinn Feiners and Crown forces in County Limerick, which is under martial law.

Cork—Thirty armed and masked raiders invaded the offices of the Cork Examiner Christmas eve, broke the machinery, wrecked parts of the building with explosives and set fire to the property. They escaped. The fire was extinguished but the other damage was extensive.

The raiders, who wore civilian clothing, said they were acting under "orders of the Irish Republic." They forced their way through the front entrance, carrying sledge hammers with which they smashed two large printing presses. Cutting the telephone wires, they proceeded to place bombs and gelignite under the machines, some of which were blown to pieces.

It is believed the attack was caused by the attitude of the Examiner on the recent pastoral letter issued by the Bishop of Cork.

Robert E. Lyons Killed in Automobile Accident

San Francisco—Pinned beneath his automobile when it skidded and overturned in the ditch one mile west of Fairfield, Solano county, Sunday night, Robert E. Lyons, vice-president of the Stewart Fruit Company, was suffocated in eight inches of mud.

His wife and Estelle Wayne, of Oakland, his private secretary, were thrown clear of the car and escaped with minor injuries. They were on their way to Sacramento from San Francisco. The accident occurred a few hundred feet from the new County Hospital near Fairfield.

Lyons was a native of California, was born in Oakland thirty-nine years ago, and was a graduate from the Oakland schools at the age of 16 years. He entered the service of the E. P. Earl Fruit Company at the age of 16, later organizing the Stewart Fruit Company with W. H. Stewart. The company has offices in San Francisco and Los Angeles and a packing plant at Suisun.

Los Angeles Man Finds Family Dead in Home

Santa Ana—Dr. M. N. Putnam, dentist of Los Angeles, came to his country home near here to spend Christmas with his wife and fifteen-year-old son, and found them both lying dead, fully dressed, on their respective beds.

A gas heater in the house was burning and a can of fish, with the contents partly missing, was on a table. There were no marks of violence on either body.

The physicians said they found a five-inch slit in a rubber gas tube connection, with gas escaping from the hole, in a room near the bedrooms.

GROWERS NAT'L BANK OPEN HOUSE CAMPBELL IS PROUD OF NEW INSTITUTION

The Growers' National Bank of Campbell held its grand opening reception in its new home Wednesday afternoon and evening. An army of enthusiastic workers had been busily engaged in putting everything into readiness for the big occasion.

The interior is finished in marble and mahogany, with every convenience for patrons and employees. A ladies' dressing room is fitted up with chairs, dressing table and lavatory. Private telephone booth and writing rooms are installed for the public. A neatly appointed directors' room is placed back of the cashier's desk.

The working space inside is light and roomy giving accommodations for the various desks and machines.

The working floor space is covered with green battleship linoleum. The reinforced concrete vault is charged with an electric cable imbedded in the concrete, to which the burglar alarm is connected, making the vault one of the most burglar proof in the county.

A nest of safe deposit boxes is installed in here as is also a large manganese steel coin and currency safe. The large time-lock vault door is equipped with the latest and best approved devices for safety.

With all the furniture and fixtures new and highly polished, the interior had the finishing touches put on in the way of beautiful baskets and vases of flowers. These floral displays were gifts of banks and friends expressing sentiments of good will and best wishes for future growth and success.

The donors were Campbell branch Garden City Bank & Trust Co., Growers' Bank of San Jose, Security State Bank of San Jose, Crocker National Bank, E. H. Rollins & Son, San Francisco, C. F. Haas, bank engineer, Geo. A. Kennedy, First National Bank, San Francisco, C. H. Whitman and Farmers & Merchants' National Bank of Mountain View, the latter being a beautiful set horseshoe inscribed with the word "Success."

At the opening, both afternoon and evening, the Campbell Boys' Band rendered several pieces of music which were highly appreciated. During the hours of reception Sykes' Vendome orchestra furnished music. Miss Irene Preston presided at the punch bowl and wafer trays.

The evening was closed with a free show at the movie, which was enjoyed by all, three runs being made of the films.

According to registration more than 1000 visited the bank during the reception and the bank directors and the officers and building committee were showered with compliments on the wonderful success of the entire construction and management and best wishes for a greater growth and success of our new banking institution.

"A HAPPY AND PROSPEROUS NEW YEAR" is the sincere wish of The Press to all its subscribers and friends. Tomorrow will soon be history, but our wish is intended to extend throughout the year, and if we can bolster the wish with a boost or two to make the wish come true, we will gladly do that. With "malice toward none" we enter on the tasks of the year with the friendliness for others that begets friendship. So let us all pull together to make Campbell a bigger, better and busier place to live in. You and I, both.

THE COMMITTEE APPOINTED by the Campbell Improvement Club to circulate and file with the State Water Commission a protest against the granting of the privilege of diverting the Los Gatos Creek waters above Campbell, has made quick and thorough work of its job. The commission has assured the committee that sufficient protest has been made to demand a thorough investigation of the case, and justice will insure the denial of such a privilege.

The community owes a vote of thanks to this active committee, and it is hoped that other booster committees may take a lesson from this.

As the Campbell water for domestic use is dependent upon the Los Gatos watershed for its supply, the community needs must be considered first and always. As this diversion is asked for above the Campbell wells, it would be a great detriment to the community to grant such a request.

ITEMS OF INTEREST

Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Souto, her mother and sister, spent Christmas with relatives at Haywards, the latter ladies remaining for a more extended visit.

HAPPY NEW YEAR!

When we say "Happy New Year" it is with the feeling that we have a responsibility in helping to make your New Year fulfill the wish that we have expressed in conventional words, in real attainments. So to that end we beg permission to suggest a thought—something that is perhaps good to note on that "new leaf" that you are turning.

One of the nation's greatest men recently said: "Good business is really only the practice of enlightened selfishness—a realization that the most successful selfishness is unselfishness." He meant that in serving other people faithfully, we increase their wealth, their power to give back; and they, by giving back justly, increase our wealth, our power to serve them again." Thus, each, as it were, in every fair transaction, throws a shovelful of wealth on the other man's pile.

That unselfishness is good business is a sunny thought. It warms the heart. It extracts from life's work its drudgery, our "daily medicine," all trace of bitterness, and adds a pleasant flavor instead. Suppose, then, that we head our "new leaf" for 1921, with these four words, "Unselfishness is Good Business," and see if it isn't a fine beginning for A Happy New Year.

L. T. Lenox and family enjoyed turkey dinner with his father and mother at Mountain View.

J. J. Pardee left Tuesday on a business trip to Yerrington, Nev., expecting to be away about a week.

The Henry Campbell and Jas. Kelly families spent Christmas holidays with the Warren McKenzies.

Mrs. Ellen R. Smith and Gordon spent the Christmas week-end at San Francisco with her son Stewart.

Dr. C. W. Cooper is again able to be about the house after a two weeks' siege with his old enemy the gripe.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Antrim returned home Wednesday after spending Christmas at the S. G. Rodeck home.

The Methodist congregation will hold a watch night service this evening. You are invited to join the party.

Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Ross of Palo Alto enjoyed Christmas day at the M. A. Ross and H. E. Brandenburg homes.

Special revival services will be held at the Methodist church Sunday evening and each evening following for a time.

Mr. and Mrs. Harmon Bibb and family drove up from Los Angeles last week to spend the holidays here with relatives.

The J. F. Duncan family entertained Easton Carter and family, Mrs. Sharpless, Mrs. Parker, Miss Eleanor and Clifton Carter Christmas day.

E. C. Merrill and family and Walter Craig started Wednesday on a motor trip to Los Angeles to spend the week-end with the Walter Merrill family, A.P. Merrill and Mrs. Craig.

The C. E. Society will hold a watch night at the church Friday evening, beginning at 9 o'clock, following the pageant practice. There will be a business meeting and social. All are requested to bring an old newspaper.

The Oluf Strom family moved this week in to their new house on Campbell avenue. It is one of the nicer dwellings in Campbell, with built-in features, up-to-date lighting and plumbing fixtures, and will make a very attractive home.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Russell Kennedy arrived home last evening after a two months' trip east visiting relatives in Missouri, Texas and southern California. During their absence Russell experienced a short hospital sentence suffering with a painful carbuncle.

Those who are participating in the Pilgrim Pageant which the Congregational church is preparing, will meet for practice promptly at 7 o'clock this (Friday) evening at the church. The date for the presentation of the pageant has not been definitely set as yet.

Christmas afternoon was enjoyed by a bunch of boys working off their hearty dinners on the diamond. The Stars defeated the Rainbows by a close score, 10 to 3, but as everybody was happy nobody cared. The day was ideal but the ground was soft and the ers stuffed, which accounts for the close score.

Miss Delphia Morton recently of Columbus, Ohio, is a guest of her cousin, H. W. Morton and family. Wednesday evening Mr. and Mrs. Morton entertained a company of the younger set at the home of Mrs. W. F. Morton, in honor of their guest. Dancing and cards were the principal amusements.

Mrs. Lillie F. Shaw and Mrs. May Beardsley entertained a family dinner party Christmas day. Those present in addition to the two hostesses were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Beardsley of Oakland, Mrs. Alice Fleming and daughters, Misses Beatrice and Evelyn of the Willows, Mr. Rea W. Shaw of San Francisco, Theo Beardsley of the U. S. S. Wyoming, and E. W. Allen.

CLUB CHRISTMAS PARTY

Holiday festivities continue to add pleasure to the passing days. Among these occasions was the annual Christmas party which the Pundita Circle enjoyed Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. C. W. Toles.

A simple but attractive program had been arranged, opening with two well played piano solos, by Miss Marie Purmort. The president, Mrs. M. E. Purmort, then introduced a charming Christmas story by Edgar Allan White, "The Signs in the Christmas Fire," which was passed around the circle and read aloud. Mrs. Harry Williams read a humorous selection and then the "grabbing" was prepared.

Miniature stockings were filled with nuts and candy and a present, each lady contributing one. These were then drawn from the basket and opened, proving to be useful, ornamental or merely mirth-provoking.

Cakes and coffee were served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. M. E. Mumma and Mrs. Maxon, which concluded a pleasant afternoon.

SMITH-GLASS

Mrs. Ellen R. Smith announces the marriage of her daughter, Dorothea, to Clyde E. Glass, at Vancouver, Washington, on December 23. Mr. and Mrs. Glass will make their home at Portland, Oregon, where Miss Smith has been librarian for the past year.

Miss Dorothea graduated from Stanford in 1914 and has held several important library positions, and was one of the Stanford workers in France for several months during the war.

She was also one of the graduates of our local schools and popular among the young people. The many friends of Mrs. Smith and family extend the best of good wishes and congratulations to the happy couple.

Mrs. Ralston Alison spent the fore part of the week in San Francisco.

Mr. Charles Fisbee of Denver, Colorado, arrived last week for a visit with his old friend J. H. Neff.

Mr. A. P. Merrill writes that he enjoyed an interesting 83-mile auto trip to Claremont and Pomona last week. He writes to keep the Press coming to him.

Josephine Stallman is on the road to recovery from her attack of scarlet fever. She has been isolated so that the doctor and the Strom family were not quarantined.

The Press has received word from Mrs. Lillian Olds that she will leave St. Paul the early part of January for California and will spend part of the winter with Campbell friends.

The annual meeting of the Congregational church will be held next Wednesday, January 5th, at the church. Meeting both afternoon and evening with a fellowship supper at 6:30. All members of the congregation are cordially invited.

The Country Woman's Club will meet in regular session Monday, January 3, at the library.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Greene entertained at their home Christmas their son C. W. Greene and family of Morgan Hill and Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Wait of Bay Point.

The annual installation of the officers of Charity Lodge, F. & A. M., will be held Monday evening, with retiring Master T. L. Mendel installing officer and R. G. Archibald master of ceremonies. Refreshments will be served following the installation. A goodly attendance is hoped for.

Louie V. Williams of Campbell and Edna Marshall of Chicago were married at San Francisco, December 20. Louie has been enjoying a leave of absence from the naval station at San Diego but returned to duty Monday. His bride will remain in Campbell for some time, possibly until next summer. Congratulations are extended the young people by Campbell friends of the groom.

The Season's Greetings and best wishes for your happiness and prosperity throughout the coming year. E. E. Sower, the Shoe Man.

OSTEOPATHY
EXPLAINED

Osteopathy maintains that the human body contains all the remedial agents necessary for the maintenance of health. It further asserts that the curative fluids are distributed when and where needed except when such distribution is interfered with by structural disorder.

The average person usually makes the expression that Osteopathy may be good for some things such as Headache or Rheumatism.

While that is very true, if it was understood that the Osteopath understands just how and where to manipulate for the relief and cure of all other ailments and disorders they would not hesitate to procure osteopathic treatment.

SCRAPS HUMOR

She Had a Heart.
"I never expected to see it."
"What?"
"Two suburbanites fighting over a cook."
"Which won?"
"The smaller of the two combatants. The cook couldn't stand to see a little man getting the worst of it, so she signed up on the spot for three weeks."

Spared.
"Did you get an interview with that foreign celebrity?"
"Yes," said the star reporter. "And he shook hands with me cordially when I left."
"What did he do that for?"
"I suspect he was grateful because I didn't ask him what he thought of America."

Not His Business.
"Have you covered that story of Penman, the novelist?" asked the editor.
"I have not, sir," was the reporter's reply.
"Were you not told to cover it?"
"Yes, sir, but it was not my business to cover his stories. I'm not a bookbinder, sir."

A HANDICAP.

"I wouldn't have my boy taught grammar at all, if I had my way."
"That's a strange idea. Why not?"
"I intend that he shall be a writer of popular songs."

Overwhelming Erudition.
Unto a massive book I cling
With stout and patient hand.
The more I try to read the thing
The less I understand.

Forging Ahead.
"I see there's a new three-story building going up on Main street."
"Yes," said the proud citizen. "And there's a four-story skyscraper planned for the opposite corner. Guess we'll soon begin to talk about Hicksville's 'canyon.'"

A Plunger.
"Was that young Brown I saw striking you for a loan? Why, I heard that only recently he fell into a fortune."
"That's so, but he fell into it so hard that he went right through it."

Great Practice.
"Where did you learn such a curve?"
"Throwing paper wads around a girl's head to reach a boy sitting two seats in front."

DADDY'S EVENING
FAIRY TALE
By Mary Graham
Donner

THE TABLEUX.

"The other evening," said Daddy, "some children gave tableaux which, as I've told you, are like pictures. The children get in positions to make them look like the pictures and then they stand quite still while the curtain is drawn up and the people see the tableau."

"At these tableaux the other evening were the mothers and fathers and older sisters and brothers of the children and many other people came too."

"The children gave these tableaux and with the help of their mothers got up their own costumes and did all the work assisted by a few grown-ups. They charged admission for they worked hard over them and had very fine ones, and the money they made went straight to a fresh air fund so that children in the city whose daddies and mothers were not well off at all could get a little of the country and the fresh air in the summer away from the city."

"These children saw that they had no expenses. They made an old dining-room table as a platform and put a rug over it."

"Their curtain was of old velvet curtains which had been lent to them and the stage was very pretty with flowers and greens and ferns."

"I thought that it might be nice for Nick and Nancy and their friends to get up some tableaux and give them for the benefit of some good charity. For you will get so much fun out of them yourselves and you will be giving others fun, too, which they otherwise would not have."

"It's always fun to dress up and to act—even if one acts without saying a word and looking just like a statue."

"What do you think about it, Nick and Nancy? Do you think you would like to give some tableaux? And wouldn't you like to give the money you make to some nice charity so that others could get some pleasure out of your fun too?"

"We'd love it," said Nancy.
"And we'll work hard so folks will consider that our show is worth the money," laughed Nick.

"You can have volunteer ushers, and so they will all be known to be ushers"

Big Paper Hats.

they can all wear big paper hats of different colors as I once saw ushers wear.

"Some of the tableaux which are easy to give are of fancy dress balls, and of boys and girls dressed to look like the Fairyland people."

"And tableaux are nice of scenes on the farm, and at the beach and on the tennis court and fishing. A nice one to end up with is to have all the youngest boys and girls in their little night clothes carrying candles and candle sticks—all ready for bed. But it is as well not to light the candles for there might be accidents then with fire. Candles wouldn't show well anyway with all the lights for the audience turned on too."

"Then there are nice tableaux taken from famous pictures, many of that kind."

"Don't you think it would be fun, children?"

"Oh, great fun, Daddy. Thank you so much for suggesting it to us. We'll get all the children interested in it tomorrow. And we'll get it ready in two weeks. Would that give us long enough?"

"Just about right," said Daddy, "for you'll have time enough with a good deal of hard work to get everything ready by that time and it won't be so long as to make you feel you have all the time in the world."

"And you can fix very simple costumes and they're just as pretty. They're easier to get into and they won't make your mothers all wish I had never suggested such a thing!"

Nick and Nancy laughed. "We promise to dress up in simple things," they said.
"And when one boy has something in the way of a costume which will make him do for a certain part give that part to him. That is also a good idea."

"And one more thing, when you give your tableaux, have the children who're to act in the next tableaux ready while one is being given, as then there will be no waits and waits make audiences very, very weary."

And off went Nick and Nancy to get up a series of tableaux which they decided they would give for the benefit of a fund they knew of which was being raised to help city children get to the country. And at the same time they knew what fun they would all have getting up the tableaux.
